Guidelines for content

All content should link back to Spark's mission

Our mission is to provide information, resources or connections that help our users make informed choices & improve lives.

The goal is always to enable users to access resources and tools - anything that is tangible and helps them improve their quality of life (how they feel) or standard of living (income / physical resources).

Tip: think about how this content contributes to Spark and Co.'s mission.

Content needs evidence based.

Content can be based on:

- Lived experiences or
- Academic knowledge
- Professional / work expertise

We are evidence based - whether this evidence is anecdotal, draws on research, scientific findings, or on expert knowledge.

We look to feature a range of people who have expertise, whether that's through their work, education or lived experiences.

Tip: be clear about your expertise in both your pitch and the content itself, whenever possible.

There are three potential goals for our content:

- It drives traffic to the website
- It builds our social media following & engagement
- It supports an offline activity we are doing

Tip: When you are pitching, include which of the goals you are supporting and how.
